The Idea

Our concept (At the Centre of it all) has been created because it is literal and emotional. It's rail minutes and drive time, but it's also the feeling of being where things happen - the centre of a matchday, the centre of a stage, the centre of a skyline at night, the centre of yourself walking the Great Ridge at Dawn. Our visitors deserve to be at the centre of their experience, which they will be in East Midlands, Peak District & Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire, and our partners will put our visitors at the centre of their offering.

The campaign is separated into two strands, one for Derbyshire & Derby and one for Nottinghamshire.

Our Campaign Colours

A buttercup yellow from the Visit Peak District & Derbyshire brand, a vibrant green from Visit Nottinghamshire brand.

For our hero campaign colour purple, we've blended a swatch which combines purples from both brand guidelines.

How to Speak the Campaign Language

The easiest way to get involved is with the language you use and using the word 'centre' in all campaign messaging ensures a clear, consistent story that links campaign together. It highlights both the region's accessible location and the emotional experience of being at the heart of something special, whether it's a cultural event, a sporting match, or a quiet moment in nature.

For partners, 'centre' places the visitor at the core of the experience. It keeps the focus on what matters most, the visitor's journey. Whether that's feeling part of the action or finding peace in the landscape. By using this simple, powerful word, partners can help make the region feel unified and welcoming.

The beauty of 'centre' is its versatility. It can be used in countless ways to match the tone and personality of any partner, from playful to more formal, while still contributing to a strong, shared identity. When everyone uses 'centre', the whole campaign grows stronger.

AS A CALL-TO-ACTION

“Stay with us at the Centre of it all...”

AS A CAPTION

“Take Centre stage at tonight's gig...”

AS A SIGN-OFF

“...we're at the Centre of the action!”

AS A PLAY ON WORDS

“Tuck into a gooey centre...”

Language In Use

Here is a demonstration on how existing partner content can be adapted using the campaign language and tone of voice.

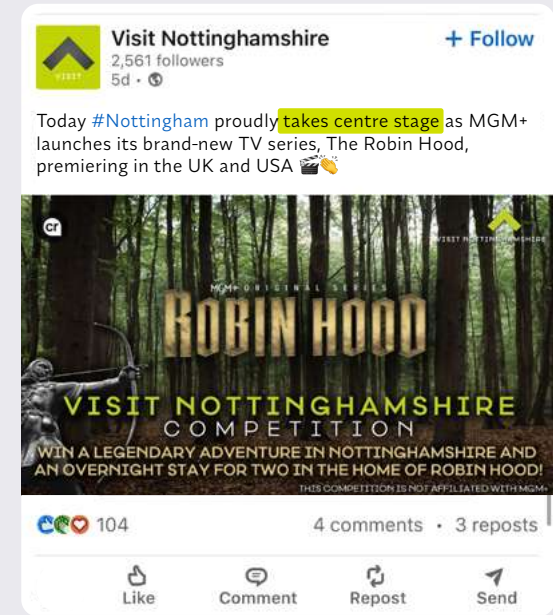

Both examples show a before and after version so that you can see how introducing the word 'centre' and focusing on visitor experience helps create stronger, more unified messaging.

These are to guide you in applying the campaign style to content with clarity and consistency.

Social Media Templates

We have three social templates that you can use to join and strengthen the campaign:

Standalone Circle Device

This template is perfect for highlighting key visuals or moments. With a bold circular design, it draws attention to the focal point of your content, whether that's a stunning image, product, or experience. It's a clean, simple way to bring your visuals to the forefront and connect them to the campaign message.

Branded Campaign Template

The branded template is ideal for campaign-specific social posts. With the campaign's visual assets and messaging already integrated, it ensures your content remains consistent with the wider campaign identity.

Campaign Social Overlays

Putting this overlay on your social posts is the easiest way to share your involvement and strengthen the overall campaign presence across social media.

Putting Your Social Channels at the Centre

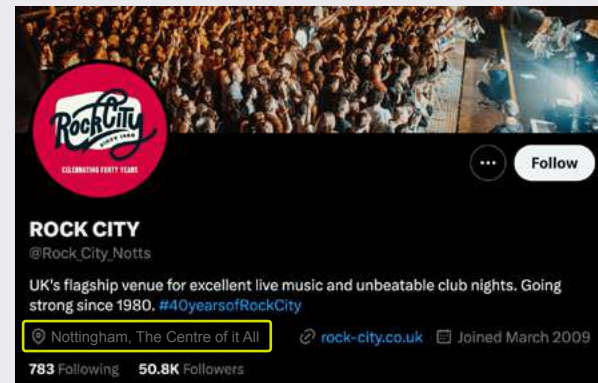

Partners can get their social media profiles involved in the campaign by simply changing the profile's official location to "Nottingham, The Centre of it All", "Derbyshire, The Centre of it All" or "Derby, The Centre of it All".

It's an easy way to join the campaign and let your followers know that you're at the heart of everything people want to experience. You can update your location in your profile settings or simply add the phrase to your bio with a pin emoji. Either way, you're helping spread the message that your business or venue is right at the centre of the action.

Physical Presence

Here, you'll find examples of how the campaign language and visual assets can be applied by partners across Peak District & Derbyshire and Derby.

The examples showcase how using the campaign's language and imagery helps visitors feel at the heart of the region's unique experiences.

Physical Presence

Explore how Nottingham partners can incorporate the campaign language and visuals into their physical spaces.

These examples illustrate how the 'centre' theme can be applied in locations ranging from city centre signage to promotional materials for local businesses. By using the campaign's assets across posters, banners, and window displays, Nottingham can strengthen the sense of being at the heart of the action, inviting visitors to immerse themselves in the city's vibrant atmosphere.

Collaboration and Cross-Promotion

Any partner who would like to get involved is encouraged to tag in Visit Peak District & Derbyshire, Visit Derby and Visit Nottinghamshire so we can stay aligned and provide support. If you have printed or physical collateral that uses 'At the Centre of it all' campaign assets, please let us know, this allows us to cross-promote your activity, collaborate more effectively, and strengthen the overall impact of the campaign.
